

 PHILM
FACTORY

The Philadelphia Film Factory, also known as the Philm Factory, is a Non-Profit organization, which for 4 years started as an initiative under Eli Lu Entertainment. We work to provide local independent filmmakers, community members and youth with various educational, networking, business, and financial opportunities to gain film experience, training, exposure, resources, and career empowerment.

THE HOST

INTRO TO FILMMAKING CLASS

SHORT FILM

Concept

Logline:

After an undetected hurricane carrying parasite creatures from the ocean strikes a hospital, staff are forced to make tough decisions in order to survive.

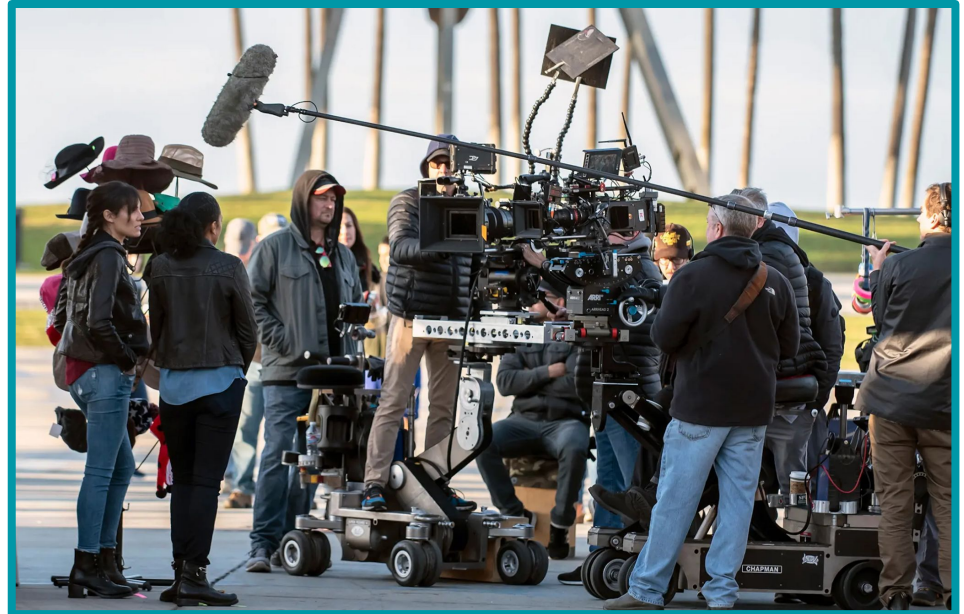

Summary:

Trapped underground after an undetected hurricane strikes a New York hospital, Dr. Morgan and her team of nurses and staff are running low on medical supplies. With little to no contact from above ground, it becomes increasingly more difficult to cure, treat and save patients. When the reality hits that help isn't coming any time soon, Nurse Ivy combats the idea of continuing to use supplies on the injured and critically ill patients. This causes chaos and friction amongst the medical team. Just as they think their problems couldn't get any worse, Nurse Sean receives info over the walkie that some sort of parasite has made its way to land from the ocean by way of the hurricane. But these aren't just parasites or organisms, these are creatures looking for human hosts.
